CRIMINALS' REIGN OF TERROR SHOWS WHY WE MUST

PEOPLE

THE horrifying wave of murders and brutal assaults sweeping over Britain show that the police and courts are no longer able to protect ordinary people from violent crime. The government's solution is to recruit a huge number of extra overpaid police and introduce identity cards and video camera surveillance.

So we are told that we face a choice between ever more revolting murders and rapes, or having our lives controlled by a totalitarian Big Brother State.

But there is a Third Way! The people could - and should - defend themselves.

SHOCKING CRIMES

Just look at some of the shocking crimes recently: The Hungerford massacre; The incident when a young man went berserk outside a Birmingham nightclub shooting innocent passers-by; The group of criminal vermin who ran amok in Surrey, hijacking a car, killing the driver, torturing householders and so on.

It isn't enough just to be thankful that you weren't one of the innocent victims. Next time you could be. And imagine how you'd feel if it was your sister raped and strangled, your grandmother beaten to death, your son or brother dying from multiple stab wounds, your children abducted and butchered by perverts.

This slaughter must be stopped. That is one reason why the National Front calls for an Armed People, where every responsible adult citizen has a standard modern rifle at their home and knows how to use it effectively.

Just look again at the crimes

Mad gunmen would not be able to get away with atrocities such as the one above, if the entire people were armed with modern, standard rifles.

mentioned earlier and see how this would have saved lives. Ryan was able to go wild in Hungerford because it took so long to get armed police there. How long would a Rambo-type madman be able to roam the streets shooting people if every householder there was armed?

POINTLESS LAWS

Criminals and psychopaths will always be able to get deadly weapons. The only way to counter this is if decent people are armed to deal with them. Laws against firearms are pointless, for when guns are criminalized, only criminals will have guns.

We don't want to follow the American example where people are able to own any weapon from a range of easily concealed handguns, which are often carried about the streets illegally, and are so easily used to turn a minor brawl into murder.

Our aim instead is to create a system like that in Switzerland. There, every adult has an automatic rifle and ammunition in a locker at home. The weapons are standard issue and identical, as is the training course which has to be passed before one is granted.

The knowledge that people all around are not only law-abiding, but also equipped to uphold the law, is a major reason why fully armed Switzerland has the lowest armed crime rate in the world.

A similar system exists in Libya where, once again, the violent crime rate is virtually non-existent. And both countries gain enormous defensive military strength because any potential invader knows that the entire population is armed to resist such aggression.

GUARANTEE OF FREEDOM

Likewise, an Armed People is the ultimate guarantee of freedom within a country. No government or Party can oppress a population which holds as of right the means to resist and overthrow tyranny. It is significant that the 'laws' to disarm the peoples of Britain favoured by most of parliament, police chiefs and the media, are similar to those enforced in Bolshevik Russia and Nazi Germany shortly after those brutal totalitarian regimes took power.

Clearly, in an ideal, National Revolutionary, British Isles, the arming of the population would include moral education and training in when it is legitimate to use firearms in self-defence or to defend the community or the nation.

But most law-abiding people have a sense of right and wrong anyway. And it is precisely the law-abiding folk who suffer most under the present criminal reign of terror. So since the police and courts are failing to protect decent people, decent people have a right and obligation to protect themselves, their loved ones and their neighbours.

Fortunately, even the new restrictive firearms laws still leave every adult without an 'official' police record the right to possess a shotgun.

The National Front believes that every decent person should exercise that legal right.

HOME AFFAIRS, ANALYSIS & COMMENT

National Suicide

A nation cannot be called free if it has to rely on outsiders or other nations for its economic well-being. Nor can it be classed as independent if its armed forces are integrated as lapdogs in the military machine of an outside Power. For when that happens the nation loses its freedom of action.

HMS Invincible, the British State's principal aircraft carrier, has now been fitted with new communications systems to provide direct links with computers on US warships and aircraft, and to speed up the exchange of information.

This shows how the right wing of the establishment has done more to undermine our independence than even the left wing. As the years pass, what remains of our defences will more and more become integrated into the Yank war-machine, and will be unable to operate without their help or permission.

WILL JEWS JOIN THE CULTURE CLUB?

AS we move towards the end of the century, it is all too apparent that the rich diversity of cultures in the world are under attack from the centralized evils of Communism and Capitalism. The main organ of Zionism in this country, the Jewish Chronicle, recently carried an article under the headline "Rosen - We're heading for cultural suicide in Britain".

Rabbi Michael Rosen is very worried about Jewish culture in Britain today. He claims that his community could be heading towards "cultural suicide" and that "if a man is about to leap off a cliff you don't sit and watch until he plunges to his death".

Mr. Rosen feels that cultural suicide is the worst thing that could happen to the Jews and he wants people to be excited about their Jewishness. He believes that if they lose their identity it is a recipe for them to become "cultural zombies".

We wish Rabbi Rosen goodwill in the defence of his people and their culture. All we ask in return is that Zionists within his community should have respect for our culture and also the cultures and basic human rights of all other peoples.

GUILTY UNTIL PROVEN INNOCENT!

HOME Secretary, Douglas Hurd, recently announced plans to amend a suspected person's right to silence. Consequently a person will be considered guilty until proven innocent!

The right to remain silent is one of the fundamental principles of the British accustorial system of justice. The suspect need not say anything during interrogation or at the time of trial. If he remains silent the prosecution is not allowed to comment nor is the jury entitled to assume guilt from lack of an innocent explanation. Hence a person is innocent until proven guilty.

However, if government proposals come to fruition the burden of proof will be on the defendant to show that he did not commit the offence he is accused of.

The principle that "a man shall not be compelled to bear witness against himself" was introduced into our legal system with the first curbs on Norman royal power in Magna Carta in the twelfth century. So much for Tory claims to be the party of Tradition!

It should be noted that it will not only be hardened criminals that this amendment will affect but can, and will, be used against anyone considered to be a threat against the Tory Establishment - militant youth groups, political dissidents, and trade unionists etc.

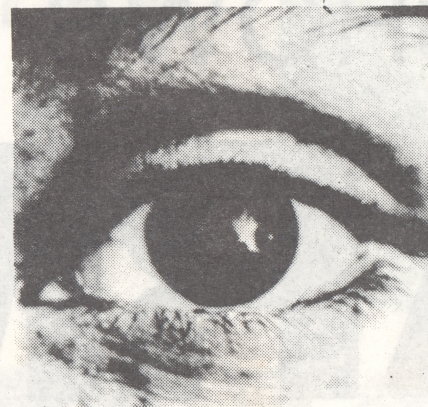

CONTENTIOUS

The abolition of the right to remain silent will be particularly contentious in Ulster, where the single judge, no jury, Diplock Court system exists. It will be for the judge to interpret the defendant's silence. Different judges are likely to draw different inferences from such silence thereby further reducing the levels of justice. Legal experts expect that many such cases will be taken to the House of Lords and the European Court of Human Rights on matters relating to the reasonableness of a judge's inference.

Again the Tory government is attempting to tighten State control over British society. They justify this by pointing to contemporary law and order problems. The constant 'hype' of threats to the public such as 'steamers', 'lager louts' and 'football hooligans' is merely an attempt to disguise the government's aim of increasing State power. The abolition of the right to silence joins a growing list of repressive acts - surveillance by social security spies; police video cameras on roads and in city centres; poll-tax snoopers and so on.

The increasingly repressive powers of the Tory State must be constantly exposed in order that people do not blindly accept measures that will serve to undermine their inherent human rights.

POLITICAL ACTIVISTS

But where do the new measures actually leave political activists who may be picked upon by the State?

It's simple. We still remain completely silent whatever the circumstances and whatever the threats they make against us, our comrades or our families.

There simply is no other defence. It may be that by remaining silent we will be condemning ourselves under their unjust law and may end up in prison for it. But let everyone understand - that is their goal anyway. And by trying to be clever and outmanoeuvre their expert interrogators by attempting to give a foolproof defence you will end up unwittingly giving them information they want.

This will enable them to weave a hostile scenario around your answers to present to the court and you will allow them to hang you far higher than they could with what will amount to mere 'contempt of court' by remaining silent.

You will end up unwittingly giving them vital information about how you operate and react under certain conditions that they create, and you will give them an insight into our efficiency and how the NF operates organizationally. You will allow them to hang you and hang your comrades - so stay silent!

POWER & WEALTH IN THE HANDS OF THE FEW

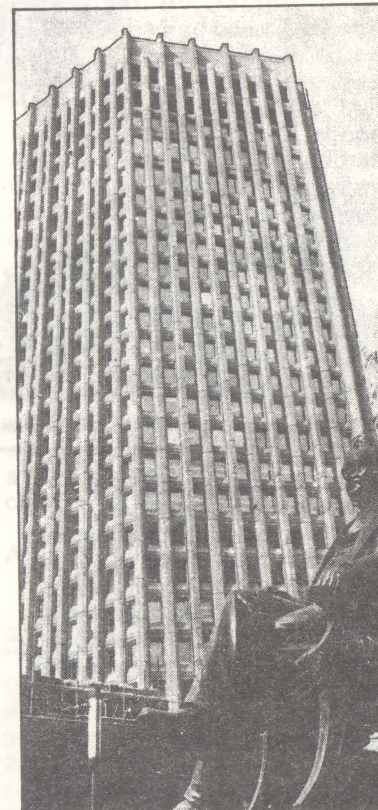

THE recent redundancies in the City of London, which include 450 staff of leading Merchant Bank, Morgan Grenfell, has made some people in the mass media comment that this is a loss of power for the big City merchant banks and stockbrokers' firms.

16,000 City jobs have been lost since the Stock Market crash and some predictions indicate that a further 34,000 jobs could be lost by the end of 1989.

But we must treat this talk of loss of City power with a certain amount of scepticism. Many City analysts claim that the end result of the job losses will be that only seven or eight multinational firms will survive the down turn in this honest trade.

This means that instead of the already corrupt City power being shared among a multitude of smaller firms, there will be an even greater concentration of power and wealth in even fewer hands than there is today.

The best thing about all this is that it will become even more clear that the Stock Market and whole City racket is an undemocratic affront to our nations. This can only increase the number of people willing to wage the long political, economic and cultural struggle necessary to replace this grasping plutocracy with popular rule under a system where power, wealth and arms are in the hands of the people.

The Stock Exchange building. Will it be the author of its own fall?

THE DEMOCRATIC MYTH TAKES AN OFFICIAL TUMBLE

WE live under a parliamentary dictatorship in which all power is held at the centre and where the public have no control over their own destiny in anything that really matters. Forget about attacking the evils of Communism and praising the West. They are both as bad as each other. And Britain is one of the most centralised States in the entire world.

This is not just the NF's analysis. Top Establishment figures have also said as much in fits of uncharacteristic frankness.

Top Tory Lord Hailsham has referred to the British System of government as being a form of "elective dictatorship".

And just to press home the point, William Plowden, formerly Director General of the Royal Institute of Public Administration, said in his essay "1688 to 1988 - Time for a new Constitution" that "The executive in Britain is one of the most powerful and least accountable in any advanced society in the world".

This just confirms what we have always said. Only a popular Third Position revolution will bring true democracy to our Peoples.

HOME AFFAIRS, ANALYSIS & COMMENT

END THE FOREIGN WAR GAMES

WHEN the British State had a British Empire under which both the British nations and other nations were cruelly compelled to live, 'we' were almost constantly at war with someone or some nation somewhere in the world. But over the years many diplomatic incidents were engineered to provoke an all-out war in the name of 'freedom and democracy' or in defence of 'British interests', but really to enhance the interests of the City of London and its parliament. Their press scribblers found it extremely easy to mould public opinion and wet the juices of the nation for yet another foreign adventure for 'right to fight wrong'.

Unfortunately the British State still has the remnants of the old Empire in its possession and one recent diplomatic incident could well lead us into a limited war in Central America. In November of last year, a Royal Navy ship was fired on off Belize by a Guatemalan gunboat. The incident took place close to, or in, disputed waters between Guatemala and Belize. Two RAF Harrier jets flew over to protect the navy ship. On top of the RAF presence there are some 2,000 British troops stationed in Belize.

This is not the first time that the State has almost got our people into a war over that territory which has nothing to do with us. Back in 1975 Harriers and Pumas were flown over to "counter an invasion threat to Belize" along with a large number of troops. The British State is committed to 'defend' Belize against further "native intrusion" and if necessary to fly in more troops.

If that happens, just who or what would our troops be dying to defend? What has it got to do with us? Why should our young men be killed in foreign wars?

THE HIGH LIFE

DESPITE what you read in the Daily Express, crooks are not just the working classes of this country. Some very sharp and immoral practises are going on at a very high level.

Mr. Charles Robertson, the chief accountant of taxation for the international assurance group, the Guardian Royal Exchange, has been given the sack because he gave information to the Inland Revenue which led into an enquiry into the firm's tax affairs. The enquiry resulted in the company paying additional tax of £1.6 million, and Robertson was made to pay for his honesty - or should we say his disloyalty towards a bunch of highly organized crooks.

REMOVED BY POLICE

An industrial tribunal found that Mr. Robertson had been unfairly dismissed and have ordered that he be reinstated, paid arrears of salary and have his pension rights and seniority restored. But when Robertson returned to his office the Royal Exchange had him removed by the police!

Robertson stated that he did it "because my duty as an individual is to be honest" and that "I still believe that I did the right and honest thing. I don't regret what I did, but it has cost me an awful lot".

We can sympathise a lot with Charles Robertson and applaud his stand, but perhaps he now appreciates that in today's society, to stand for truth, honesty and justice you have to expect to be downtrodden and persecuted.

We also hear on the grapevine that the Guardian Royal Exchange have learnt a valuable lesson from this episode. The rumour is that they are now only employing trusted men with funny handshakes and one-legged trousers in positions of top level responsibility!

GREEN MEANS LIFE

THE WORLDS' DUMPING GROUND

FREE market Capitalism has made Britain's toxic waste dumps into environmental 'time bombs' so claims a leading scientist, Dr. Robert Holmes, who has described the use of landfill waste dumps as being a "Fred Karno operation" in which the standard of landfill engineering is in very many cases too low for the proper disposal of hazardous wastes.

No community has ever agreed to the establishment of such a dump on its own doorstep. Nor have we been given the chance to vote or speak on whether private Capitalist companies should be able to import foreign toxic waste to dump, for a huge profit, in our small islands.

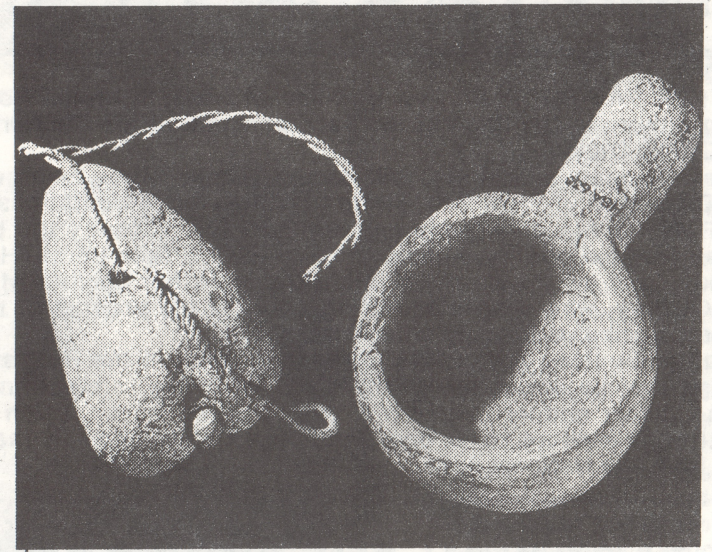

THEY WON'T BE THE LAST

THE latest evidence of the destruction of our precious environment comes from butterfly experts who have found that eight out of 60 types of native species are faced with extinction and up to 28 types have become a lot scarcer over the past 25 years.

This is due to habitat destruction and the use of herbicides on weeds on which the butterflies feed.

No doubt there are many dead hearted urbanites who could not care less if we lose a few types of butterflies. They should realise that as soon as we start dismissing one part of our environmental inheritance we have already put ourselves on the slippery slope of environmental catastrophe. The more delicate species may be the first to go, but they certainly won't be the last.

THEY'RE KILLING OUR CULTURE

This fishing weight and handled cup are some of the first items to be excavated from a massive 1000 year old Viking 'industrial complex' found in the Shetlands last year. The site is to fall victim to quarrying.

THE DECLINE in church congregations which has followed the abject surrender by many religious to crass materialism has meant that many of our nations finest old buildings are also in decline as the lack of devout Christians means that church authorities cannot afford their upkeep. A short walk around any town in the country will show too many examples of an important part of our cultural heritage falling to pieces.

Some church leaders want to become more "commercially viable" and have started to sell off priceless treasures such as Hereford Cathedral's medieval map of the world to conceal the extent of the collapse.

This is just one example of the disregard in which our culture is held by the State, whose duty it should be to preserve our rich heritage.

Another noticeable trend of late has been for the System to positively encourage this destruction by opening up sites of cultural interest to greedy developers and mass tourism sharks. Many excavations of ancient sites have hardly got underway before the bulldozers move in to destroy them forever.

And now it seems that the internationally famous pagan temple at Avebury could well be obliterated as greedy businessmen want to turn the area into a modern day leisure complex and theme park, complete, no doubt, with over-priced junk food in Yank-style hamburger joints.

Writer, Jane Grigson points out that the Avebury scheme is appalling. As she says, this is "money for the sake of money. There is 'magic' in Avebury and it must be protected. All around is a wonderful bowl of land that is full of ancient history and civilisation. We must leave it to our children undiminished".

But there is every chance that the developers will win their case and the magical atmosphere of such places will disappear with the hustle and bustle and waft of Amazonian forest burgers.

Whether it is our cultural heritage or our environmental heritage, in this country the ethos is indeed "money for the sake of money".

LAWSON NOT AS STUPID AS HE LOOKS

THE crass ignorance of many British people is only surpassed by the supposed ignorance of our masters within the ruling establishment. Chancellor Lawson told the House of Commons recently that "inflation was a phenomenon of economics" and that it could only be kept down by higher interest rates.

We do not go along with this false view. Banking is a man-made system not a God-given one, and therefore man can change the system to halt the menace of inflation. In any sane society the banks would be under the control of the people, and not under the control of private institutions which loan money made out of nothing and then charge interest on that money to make a profit. We say that if banks were under popular control, then money would be put into the country as interest free loans and thereby stop inflation overnight. Far from being an uncontrollable "phenomenon" as Lawson claims, the problem will be resolved when credit is issued by a state which serves the nation and not by a private international power elite.

In the meantime, either Mr. Lawson is ignorant of the facts or he is deliberately deceiving the nation. We are inclined to think that he is not as stupid as he looks!

WHERE WE STAND

NATIONAL FREEDOM

Britain is a family of Nations - England, Wales, Scotland, Kernow, Mannin, Eire and Ulster - linked by blood and history. The peoples of all nations have an inalienable right to self-determination and to preserve their native cultures and traditions. We look forward to the day when Eire voluntarily rejoins the future federated British family of nations.

RACIAL SEPARATION

Race is the main determining factor in nationality. Racially mixed societies cannot form one nation and are therefore unstable.

No one race is 'superior' to others, but they are all different. Racial integration threatens all races. Humane repatriation is better for us all than endless repression and racial violence.

SOCIAL JUSTICE

The nation is a great family. Every member of our national family has the absolute right to care at the nation's expense when young, sick or old. There must be equal opportunity for all, but unearned privilege for none.

WELL DISTRIBUTED PROPERTY

The realistic opportunity to own one's own home and place of work is the right of all our people. Direct ownership of the means of production and distribution is essential for individual freedom, for family stability and for the best use of our national resources.

SANITY IN FINANCE

The right to create the credit needed by the economy must belong to the people's government. The banks, which have usurped this right, must be stripped of their unjust gains and power. The National Debt is based on usury and must be repudiated.

RESPECT FOR NATURE

We hold the environment in trust for future generations. Pollution of the land, sea and air, and of the gene pool through radiation, is a betrayal of that trust.

POPULAR RULE

Parliamentary representation is a fraud. Party rule is a cloak for the dictatorship of vested interests and media bosses. Government must be in the hands of the people themselves, through new information technology, and the election of delegates to carry out their wishes. Power must be devolved to the lowest possible level.

THE ARMED PEOPLE

The freedoms given by these principles must be defended through armed neutrality, with well-equipped national defence forces involving the entire adult population. Power, wealth and arms in the hands of the people!

REVOLUTION NOT REFORM

These changes cannot be brought about by tinkering within the System, or by relying on the System's own institutions, such as parliament, schools or the courts. They can only spring from a National Revolution. This revolution must begin in the hearts of individuals, then spread by their example to involve whole communities in revolutionary structures such as alternative councils and schools, neighbourhood patrols and self-help groups. Once we cease to depend on the institutions of the old State, it will be swept aside.

THE THIRD WAY

The growth of these ideas in nation after nation shows that a new force is rising in the world for the 21st century. Leaving behind the sterile hatreds of Capitalism and Communism, this Third Way offers a real future for all our peoples. We urge all those who agree with these principles to join with us in the struggle to build the National Front, the Movement of the Future.

THE FRONT LINE

KILLING A FEW MYTHS IN ULSTER

FATHER PAT BUCKLEY is a well-known priest in Ulster. For several years, he has been a thorn in the flesh of the establishment of his Church, especially his Bishop, Dr. Cathal Daly.

Rev. Buckley, a Dubliner, first came to Ulster where he served as a parish priest in the Divis area of West Belfast. He had several confrontations with Sinn Fein and the IRSP during his time there and he managed to annoy the bigotted Bishop Daley. Daley first exiled Rev. Buckley to Killeel and then Larne. He finally sacked Father Buckley and put a new priest in his place. Father Buckley still conducts services in the Oratory, where he is squatting. He is in the process of taking the Bishop to an industrial tribunal alleging unfair dismissal.

Father Buckley now writes a weekly column in the Belfast Sunday News. He once stated that he would be willing to go anywhere to meet anybody about anything. Some Ulster cadres issued him an invitation to tea which he accepted. It was a worthwhile venture to let non-republican Catholics know that they have nothing to fear from the National Front.

ELECTION SUCCESS FOR MOVEMENT (AND WE DIDN'T EVEN STAND!)

THE recent Epping Forest by-election highlighted the opportunities available to the Movement to propagate our views and recruit. As we did not even stand a candidate, this might at first sight seem a little strange!

The local unit however, ran an abstentionist campaign which included leaflets and stickers plus press statements. But because an ex-member stood in the election falsely using our name, the campaign concentrated on exposing her as a fraud and an independent candidate, although our call for abstention was also widely promoted.

This was successful in receiving publicity, press acceptance of our official status and, in the end, a humiliating vote (and a waste of £1,000) for the bogus candidate, Tiny Wingfield.

More importantly, even though we could not use the free postal service available to candidates, we still received a good number of enquiries, in fact more per thousand than for a very long time. Whilst some of them were originally fooled by the bogus NF, others totally rejected the bigotry expressed by them (their pathetic slogan was 'stop the jungle coming to Epping' - no prizes for guessing what they meant).

All of them however, only enquired because of the election. A similar campaign in other circumstances would not have been so successful.

Other units should, in parliamentary by-elections, run abstentionist campaigns. Firstly to show our antipathy to the parliamentary con, but secondly to recruit.

IDENTIFIED AREAS

At this stage we are considering continuing this policy at the next General Election except that we propose to actually stand in 10 specially identified areas. The aim will not be to garner votes but to recruit and analyse the potential of selective standing, as well as keeping our electoral machine ticking over.

Units not standing will also run abstentionist campaigns. But the free postal service to candidates should reap an even greater number of enquiries within the areas we wish to create new bases of support. It will also allow us to promote specific ideas in the relevant areas, for instance, Independence for Ulster, cultural and economic survival for Wales and the principles of separatism in immigrant strongholds.

Those interested in the electioneering side of our work should start to put their money where their interest lies now.

Please send donations to the 'NF Fighting Fund' at PO Box 57, Romford, Essex, or fill in the standing order form on page 9.

Direct democracy

Mr. Peter Pritchard (W.S.G., October 20) is probably correct in saying that the public would like more finance directed into the National Health Service.

The problem is this: would we get more spending even if the majority of us wanted it? The answer is possibly "No". The problem stems from British democracy, or rather the lack of it.

Under the present system of Government our M.P.s are representatives who exercise their own judgement as to what is in the national interest (the framework being the party manifesto).

This means that they can ignore all protests or demands, no matter how large or reasonable, until the next media circus (General Election). Parliament is not the solution, it is part of the problem!

Instead, this system should be replaced with a national assembly of delegates, who receive their orders from delegate councils at regional and local levels beneath them. This is direct democracy, not cliques or money, vested interest or social class.

ONE effective way of spreading the Third Way message is for militants to spread our ideas 'anonymously' through the letters columns of local papers as illustrated below. Get writing!

● I SINCERELY hope that the National Trust does ban hunting from its land (News Special Report, October 20).

Surveys indicate that a majority of Britons would favour a ban on most blood sports in the country as a whole. So why do these vicious activities continue? The answer lies in the problem of democracy.

At present we elect M.P.s by a dubious voting system to Westminster, where they govern by what they personally believe to be in our best interests. Until the next media circus (general election) they can do virtually what they like. This "representative" system of Government is surely a travesty of democracy? It is not the people who rule, but those who can best manipulate them.

Instead we should have a political system of direct democracy, where popular participation is the rule. Parliament would become a national assembly of delegates, responsible to regional and then local delegate councils. The plutocratic state with its cliques and class divisions would be no more.

Time for a change?

6 SUNDAY NEWS, December 11, 1988

THE Pat Buckley COLUMN

If the National Front invited you to dinner, would you go? I received such an invitation last Sunday and joined four members of the organisation for a meal in a flat in the Rathcoole Estate. It was an enlightening experience!

I must confess that before then I, like many, was quite ignorant about the National Front. We are all inclined to think of it as a collection of aggressive skinheads who go about doing harm and causing trouble.

The young people I met told me that this image of their organisation is in fact the creation of a negative media.

They complain bitterly that they have been misrepresented as "fascist, neo-Nazi and extreme right wing". They assert, rightly or wrongly, that journalists have been instructed by their union, the NUJ, in 1978 guidelines, to report the NF in a negative way!

I was amazed to find that the NF had comprehensive policies covering such diverse subjects as race, democracy, agriculture, economics, banking, animal welfare, environment, Zionism and defence. It describes itself as "a revolutionary nationalist movement" and says that our present parliamentary system is "elective dictatorship" and a farce. Members want to see a much more decentralised system, like in Libya, where the country is run by the ordinary people through street, ward, area, town and national councils — "participative democracy".

Hijack

On Britain, they say that they would like to see the British Isles as a confederation comprising of the "nations" of Ulster, England, Wales, Scotland, Cornwall and Mannin. They say that the Republic would be welcome to join the confederation if it wished.

They make the point that Irish republicans have hijacked Celtic culture and symbols and associated them absolutely with Irish nationalism, even though some of these cultural things and symbols are as much part of the Ulster heritage as they are of the Republic's.

They point out that Cuchulain, whose statue stands in the GPO in Dublin, was really an Ulsterman who spent his whole life resisting southern Ireland! I was amazed to discover that the Celtic Cross is the symbol of the National Front.

I was interested in its members' attitude to coloured people.

They claim that they are not racists, but rather "principled racialists taking a legitimate pride in their ethnic heritage". However, when I did press them on that point they said that they believed that all the "coloured" people in Britain should be "repatriated" to the land of their origin, even if those people who have been in Britain for many generations and regard themselves as British.

On Ulster, NF members say that they would not want to see a return to the old Stormont, power-sharing or devolution. This, they say, "leaves the power in the hands of the NIO/Dublin overlords". They also reject "equal citizenship". They believe that Ulster is a distinct nation and that it should be totally independent and run by the people of Ulster. They say that while the aims of the SDLP are more respectable than those of the IRA, both groups are "imperialist", and want to subjugate the Ulster nation.

Sincere

As I said, I was quite ignorant about the NF. I have always said that I would be prepared to go anywhere, anytime, to meet anybody about anything. I was glad to have had a meal and such a good chat with these four young people. They struck me as very sincere, very dedicated and highly intelligent.

They reminded me that membership of the National Front was not a part-time hobby but a "calling". They give up a lot of time to their organisation and they also pay the expenses of running the organisation out of their own pockets and some of them are unemployed. Because of their sincerity they at least deserve to be taken seriously.

I didn't find the young people I met in any way frightening or threatening. Their arguments were reasonable but I will not be joining their organisation in a hurry! I was especially uneasy about their policy of repatriation for coloured people. I intend meeting them again. Do you think they were fooling me or that I just met four good apples out of a barrel of bad ones and that the National Front is indeed a sinister organisation? I would be interested to hear reader's experiences or opinions on the matter.

WORLD AFFAIRS, ANALYSIS & COMMENT

DON'T LET THE YANK WARMONGERS DO THIS AGAIN!

These are some of the destructive and sickening scenes from the aftermath of the U.S. terrorist attack on the Libyan people in April 1986. Several hundred people were indiscriminately butchered by Yank bombs in Tripoli and Benghazi after the U.S. State concocted stories that they had evidence that Libya had been behind the bombing of a disco full of U.S. troops in Germany. Even the U.S. media now admits that this was a pack of lies. No evidence existed. Don't let the Great Satan get away with it again!

U.S. PLOT v. QATHAFI

THE U.S. State has been out to get Colonel Qathafi for more than eight years. The illegal and immoral campaign of lies and terror waged by the most powerful government in the world against the ideological mentor of a nation of some three million people was started right at the beginning of the Reagan regime.

The paranoid Director of the CIA, the late and unlamented William Casey, and the former Secretary of State, General Alexander Haig, decided that the Libyan statesman was a threat. They correctly recognized Qathafi's Third Universal Theory and vision of a united Arab nation as a threat to Super Power domination of the Middle East and to the illegal Israeli Terror State.

POLITICAL IMBECILE

They arranged for a propaganda video 'profile' of Qathafi to be made and shown to the political imbecile Reagan. It did the trick, and Reagan has been obsessed with the idea of having Qathafi killed and his revolutionary experiment ended.

As the Independent newspaper of 5/1/89 pointed out, the U.S. then made Libya a special target. Economic sanctions were introduced and the CIA carried out "a series of plans calculated to keep Colonel Qathafi 'off balance'. One of these was a disinformation campaign against Qathafi which was eventually exposed in the U.S. media."

The 1986 attempt to terrorize the Libyan people and kill the Colonel was followed by a wave of lies and smears designed to "destabilize" him. These included totally fictitious reports questioning his mental stability and leaked suggestions of further attacks to follow. Reagan boasted that the idea was to make his opponent "go to bed every night wondering what we might do."

All the hard evidence suggests that the "Libyan chemical warfare plant" scare is just Reagan's parting shot.

The satellite photographs of the plant have been described by the West German government as providing "no definitive answers". And an RAF aerial reconnaissance expert even went so far as to suggest that they are fakes!

The chemical which the Yanks say is going to be used to make the totally outdated mustard gas is also used in making plastics and synthetic rubber, as well as in the textile industry - all areas in which Libya is at present unhealthily dependent on foreign imports.

NO EVIDENCE

The West German chemical company, Imhausen-Chemie, accused by the U.S. of helping Libya to build a "chemical warfare plant" was the subject of an intensive investigation by the West German authorities, who found "no evidence" of such activity.

The out-of-hand rejection of the Libyan offer to allow international inspection of the plant is also a clear pointer to the bad faith of the U.S. government.

This all goes together to make a clear picture of yet another product of the Washington lie-machine. If any doubt could still remain, a further look at the record of ex-Secretary of State, Alexander Haig, when it comes to allegations about chemical warfare, is revealing.

In 1981, at about the same time that he was poisoning Reagan's 'mind' against Libya, Haig announced that the U.S. had caught the Soviet Union supplying a new chemical warfare agent to Communist forces in South-East Asia.

He reported that the deadly chemical, termed Yellow Rain, was dropped by planes to kill huge numbers of people. The Yanks made this a huge stick with which to beat the U.S.S.R. in their international propaganda war. It was several years before an independent scientific enquiry team concluded that the yellow powder at the centre of the U.S. smear campaign was not a man-made chemical at all, but simply harmless deposits of bees faeces! And all the 'intelligence reports' of hideous death and injuries were simply made up.

So why should anyone believe the Yanks this time?

WILL GHANA TURN GREEN?

THE growing popularity of Third Position politics continues apace.

In Ghana, the first stage of elections for the newly created District Council took place in December.

What is special about these elections however is the rationale behind them. The present leadership in Ghana - the PNDC (Provisional National Defence Council) under the Chairmanship of Jerry Rawlings - under the influence of the Green Book, have adopted the principle of Popular Rule and aim to build a democratic structure involving the direct participation of the people.

They are under no illusions that this will take time and much effort, but are determined that decisions will be in the hands of the people and not bureaucrats or professional politicians.

As a first stage, the District councils will be composed of individuals (not under party labels) who can be recalled and replaced by the electors at any time. And most of the internal functions of the state will be replaced by and decentralised down to the Districts.

The Green Revolution is spreading to nation after nation and no Yankee terror bombs or assassinations will stop it. The revolution, like the wind, can never be stopped!

COMMUNISTS COIN WESTERN MATERIALISM.

NATIONALISTS deplore the 'something for nothing' society in which we in the West live; a society in which we have to get our kicks out of game shows, lotteries, Sun Bingo cards and the pools.

The latest lottery on offer will include 'top prizes' such as two BMW's, two Citroens and two VW's, colour television sets, videos and hi-fi systems.

But before you rush out to buy your tickets, you'll have to go to Hungary, as this is the Communist State lottery which has been launched to tap hard currency.

Both the West and now the East are infected by this crass materialism. East and West are two sides of the same coin!

HOLOCAUST ISLAND

James Gibb Stuart.
If you accept that example is more persuasive than theory, then this is a very welcome book. Clearly written, in an easy to read style, it is an excellent introductory primer to the evils of usury, or Finance Capitalism, despite the paradox of it being a work of fiction. This novel traces the attempts of a small group of remote island colonists to build a new, self-sufficient society. In doing so it outlines the obvious parallels between contemporary reality and fiction.

IF....

TENSION has been mounting between Libya and America for years. Senior Libyan government spokesmen have repeatedly said that President Reagan is a "mad dog" who should be destroyed as quickly as possible.

The Americans have had the nerve to send ageing reconnaissance planes 100 miles out over the Atlantic off New York to menace the aircraft carrier, two cruisers, two destroyers, five frigates, and five shiploads of marine assault troops, which make up the Libyan fleet which is training there for the twelfth time this year.

A similar Libyan fleet in the Gulf last year included the USS Vincennes, which shot down an unarmed Iranian passenger Airbus, killing all 290 passengers and crew.

This perfectly reasonable act of self-defence by Libyan forces compares very favourably with the suggestion - clearly true, although there is no proof whatsoever - that Pan Am 103 which blew up over Scotland could have been bombed by the Israeli government which could have links with the Americans.

This theory alone provides good reason for the Libyan fleet to attack civilian and industrial targets on the east coast of the U.S.A.

And then there is the fact that Libya has now alleged that the U.S.A. is about to start manufacturing chemical weapons "in the largest chemical warfare plant in the world". No proof has been provided and American offers to allow international inspection have quite correctly been rejected out of hand by Colonel Gathafi.

This is extremely reasonable. After all, Libya already has the largest chemical warfare plant in the world (capable of making 200,000 lbs of poison per day) and is forging ahead with a military programme of fitting chemical warheads to missiles. Libya also possesses the biggest stockpile of nuclear bombs in the world. Every sane person would agree that Libya, the defenders of the Free West, must be well equipped in order to carry out their magnificent voluntary role of policing the world and saving us all from the ever-present menace of mad dog Reagan and his fanatic supporters.

It certainly wouldn't do for an upstart little nation like the U.S.A. to possess a cheap but effective deterrent against such overwhelming force.

BE PREPARED TO ACT

The NF were quick to condemn the U.S. attack on two reconnaissance planes and widely distributed the following statement to the media.

"The premeditated act of aggression against planes on a routine reconnaissance mission is part of a pattern of attacks on the Libyan Arab people by U.S. warmongers. The fact that our government seeks to justify such action should be a matter of shame for all British people."

Libya is under attack because it has refused to give in to the bullying of the U.S.A. and because it advocates Third Position politics and defends natural rights.

We must stand by this small nation and re-affirm our commitment to the Third Position at a time when it is under attack militarily in Libya, and through propaganda in our own country."

NFN Supporters' units should follow this lead in future and get into the habit of distributing local press statements under such circumstances, and bombarding our government and the U.S. Embassy with condemnations.

But more importantly, should the U.S., or anyone else, attack any of our comrades throughout the world, we must take immediate action to exert pressure on the warmongers. We must follow the initiative of the Campaign for Palestinian Rights by exerting economic pressure and applying a nuisance value to people who the Yank government rely on for their existence.

So should they attack Libya again select American companies to picket and use initiative to become a sharp thorn in the side of the U.S. State and its overseas manifestations.

PRICE INCREASE

WE are sure that our readers will agree that this paper has improved steadily, and quite considerably, over the past two and a half years. But we are by no means satisfied with the enormous progress that has been made so far and intend to establish NF News on a more professional basis over the next year. To do this it is necessary to raise the cover price by 5p.

DEAR EDITOR

THE PEOPLE V. THE STATE

Dear Sir,

I would like to make a few comments on two articles that appeared in NFN 112. In the article "Blue Danube", you rightly mentioned the tremendous effects that the "Project of the Century" dam will have on nature, but there is another implication that you did not mention which is relevant to National Revolutionaries. The land that will be flooded will include some of the area of settlement of the Hungarian minority in Slovakia. The Czechoslovakian government wants the affected minority not to move to other areas where there are Hungarian settlements, but to places much further away so that they can be assimilated. In other words, so that their identity can be annihilated.

In your article "Europe will be Free" you said that protestors had forced the regional politburo in Yugoslavia to retreat, and this is, indeed, true, but the protestors were angry about the politburo's policy of giving generous autonomy to the Hungarian minority in Wojwodina. Before the last war the Hungarians and Germans in this area formed the majority; they had been forced after WW1 into the Yugoslavian federation against their will. After the last war the Serbians killed half the German population and expelled the other half, thereby creating a Serbian majority. The fact, however, is that there were no Serbians in Wojwodina until the Turkish Empire occupied Serbia; the Hungarians, generously, gave asylum to the fleeing Serbs.

The Serbians have also sought to undermine the Albanian majority in Kosovo, deporting 200-300,000 Albanians to, of all places, Turkey, despite the fact that the Albanians lived in the Balkans long before the Serbs!

It is surely only a question of time before the multi-national State of Yugoslavia breaks apart into People's states. It is a clear cut case of the necessity of not confusing the Nation with the State.

Best Wishes,
J.G., Frankfurt, Germany.

DEADLY NUCLEAR-RELATED CANCERS

Dear Sir,

When it comes to nuclear power some people never seem to learn.

Up to 50,000 fatal cancers are estimated to have arisen as a result of the accident at Chernobyl in the USSR, 400 of them in Britain. Yet despite this, the Central Electricity Generating Board is requesting the construction of a pressurized water reactor at Hinckley Point in Somerset.

The Conservative government is pledged to expand the nuclear industry even though Gallup polls suggest that 70% are against such a programme.

An argument put forward by the Tories to support such unpopular schemes is to justify them on 'economic' grounds. This is very suspect though. The economics of nuclear power compared with coal completely altered since the Sizewell enquiry. The C.E.G.B.'s cost comparisons were at that time based on a projected price of £90 per tonne of coal, but today it stands at about £40.

Hinckley C will add 20,000 cubic metres of solid waste to the growing nuclear stockpile, even though no long-term solution to the problem of waste management exists.

The answer to our problems is to phase-out nuclear power over 10-15 years, and build no new stations; our energy needs can be met from renewable energy, improved energy efficiency and coal/combined heat and power schemes.

Yours sincerely,
G.K., Hampshire.

CONNED!

Sir,

At the beginning of the New Year I posted off my subscription to your paper 'The Flag'. I have not received so much as an acknowledgement from your office in Worthing. Nor have I had copies of 'The Flag' although NF News arrives regularly from London. I am rather worried as my cheque was cashed some time ago. As a pensioner I can't afford to lose my money. Would you please look into this matter for me.

Mrs. L.G.,
Brierley Hill, W. Mids.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

We are sorry to hear that it seems that you have been ripped off. We would like to reiterate that the 'Flag' is not produced by the National Front but by a small group of undesirable elements expelled from the Movement over two years ago. We would also like to point out that we carry a regular disclaimer in this paper warning people to that effect, although to our amazement, yours is one of a number of similar complaints that we have received.

We would suggest that you take action over this matter in the small claims court. To undertake this action and receive advice you should contact your local County Court, Citizens Advice Bureau or Consumer Advice Centre.

HOLIDAY HOMES

Dear Editor,

The campaign of the Holiday Home arsonists has been raised recently in National Front News. Although we can not condone such activities, because of the very real danger that innocent people could get hurt, the question as to why the campaign exists cannot be ignored.

The campaign has been going for several years now, and numerous houses have fallen victim to it. But in February of this year [1988] - for the first time - the issue was taken to England with the firebombing of four estate agents in Chester which regularly promote and sell Welsh homes to rich Yuppie style businessmen. In other words the soil of Wales is being sold.

All the political parties, including the so-called 'Nationalist' Plaid Cymru, have chosen to ignore this dangerous trend, with the result that people are trying to get themselves heard through Meibion Glyndwr - the Sons of Glyndwr. They operate mainly in rural areas where local inhabitants are not able to compete with the invading rich for houses. The bitterness is such that to date no one has been caught.

These new 'neighbours' contribute nothing to the community, save to undermine Welsh language and culture. For example, Llangrannog in west Wales was once a solid Welsh coastal village with a small fishing industry; now, with only two exceptions, every building has been occupied by English families who use these houses only at weekends, or during the summer holiday.

The native Welsh are in danger of becoming an extinct people. The heartland is overrun, and south Wales is becoming another commuter belt stretching all the way to Carmarthen in west Wales.

The Welsh Office, that bastion of Westminster colonialism, headed by the anti-Welsh, Welsh Secretary of State, Peter Walker, has refused even to meet the Welsh Language Society to discuss a new Welsh Language Act until they cease all activity!

As soon as Welsh nationalist feeling grows, Westminster resorts to repression, not only against groups like the F.W.A. and M.A.C. in the 1960's who carried out arson campaigns, but also against pacifist cultural groups like Cofiw'n.

Yes, these gentle folk were dragged from their beds in the middle of the night and questioned about the current firebombing campaign by our wonderful boys in blue!

The situation in Wales is desperate, and will only get worse until real solutions are provided. The first step towards a solution is to understand why the campaign exists, so I hope that at least the radicals of the NF will print this letter.

Tai a Gwaith I gadw'r iaith!
D.T., Bridgend.

ULSTER, PIRA AND AMERICA

Dear Sir,

The letter from 'J.T.' of Washington DC showed up an interesting point about the Provisional IRA. He said he was disturbed that the Provo's "never denounce the Zionists". This might puzzle anyone who has read Sinn Fein's newspaper, An Phoblacht, which often condemns Israel and America.

In America though, the Provo's do not circulate An Phoblacht. Instead, they produce another paper called the Irish People. This is careful never to annoy Zionists or the American System as this would upset the Provo's bedrock of support in the United States.

An opportunity to observe Provo cynicism at work is the noticeable change in An Phoblacht during the annual summer pilgrimage of American NORAD supporters to Ulster. The 'world solidarity' column gets dropped. No criticism of Zionism and the USA appears. The works of Marx, Engels, Lenin and Castro also mysteriously disappear from the shelves of the Sinn Fein bookshops in Belfast and Dublin during this period.

Yours faithfully,
J.D.F., Co. Antrim, Ulster.

THE FRONT LINE

SUCCESSFUL TECH FUND CLOSED TO CONCENTRATE ON SPRING '89

ADVERTISING PUSH

THE National Directorate has decided to close the highly successful Technology Fund for the time being.

This fund has raised a total of nearly £10,800, which has now enabled us to buy all the components of a well integrated computer typesetting, administration and communications network.

The National Front now owns, and uses on a daily basis, four sets of computer equipment plus sophisticated software, laser printer, modems and various other items of information and security technology.

This has placed our central operations in a completely different league to the NF's string and chewing gum arrangements of a few years ago, and to the ageing and very limited old fashioned setting capabilities of so-called 'nationalist' fractions.

Our modernization programme will continue, but we are now in the position where the NF's Centre itself can pay for all the improvements needed in this field over the next six months.

NEW AREAS

But having a more efficient and productive Centre is not enough. The National Front also needs to grow into new areas and to get our revolutionary nationalist message over to the millions of people - especially youngsters whose political awareness is very recent - who have not had a chance to find out about our Movement before.

As part of this drive, the Directorate has set up the ADVERTISING FUND. Every penny donated to this fund will go to pay for NF adverts in the mass media, national as well as local. Even quite small local papers are read by tens of thousands of people, so this is a cheap and effective way of getting our address across to millions.

The first shot in the campaign was an advert placed in the West Essex Gazette of 9/12/88. This paper covers an area which includes Epping Forest, where a by-election was being held at the time. The advert helped make it plain to the media that the National Front was not responsible for the outcast candidate using our name and even though these people tried to pass themselves off as the National Front, the media constantly referred to them as being Independent from the NF. At the same time, our advert brought in a good size batch of enquiries from members of the public wanting to know more about our message.

HIT LIST

Having proved that papers will accept adverts and that they are effective on several different levels, we have drawn up a 'hit list' of areas of special interest groups where the NF has a good chance of making an impact with such a campaign.

This Spring '89 Advertising Push will cost £500, so this target must be achieved by mid-April. We will start to place ads as soon as the money is available for each one, but the full £500 target must be reached to allow us to complete this campaign satisfactorily and so to assess the full value of this tactic for future growth.

NFN welcomes this Directorate initiative and asks every one of our readers and Supporters who helped make the Technology Fund such a success last year to dig deep at the start of 1989 for the Advertising Push. And we urge new readers or those who didn't bother to help before to do something positive to help build the National Front today.

All donations will be acknowledged in NFN in the usual way. Cheques/postal orders should be made payable to Advertising Fund.

Please find enclosed a donation of £ towards the Advertising Push.

THIS is the advert that kicked off the NF's big Spring '89 Advertising Push. Published in the West Essex Gazette in early December, it quickly brought in a rush of enquiries from people wanting to know more about the Movement of the Future.

NF News readers who responded to our initial appeal raised a total of £52 which enabled us to place this trial advert.

Many thanks again to:

Unemployed, Manchester - £6; J.L., Paisley - £3;

To make this campaign effective we have worked out that we need to raise £500 in three months.

Many of our readers have shown themselves to be invaluable assets to the Cause through their constant donations and relentless sacrifice. Isn't it about time that you followed their heroic example?

LEGAL

Remember the Cause in your Will

We wish our readers and supporters a long and healthy life, but for all of us the time for departure must eventually come. We feel that everyone will wish, when this time does arrive, to leave something behind that will help to carry on the struggle.

You can help the Cause when you are gone by making provision in your Will for those who will be doing the fighting after you. You can do this by bequeathing money to the National Front. Make sure you remember the National Front when you make out your Will. If you have already written your Will add a codicil for the benefit of the Movement. If you are unsure about any of the legal technicalities in arranging this, please do not hesitate to contact our Legal Department or see your own solicitor and he or she will advise. A short time ago the National Front benefitted from a substantial amount of money left to it by a deceased supporter. You too can help in this way. Can you think of a better way to go?

YOURSELVES

OVER ONE MILLION people are now homeless in Britain. This shocking official figure shows that we now face the worse housing crisis since the last war. What can be done about it?

Groups like Shelter do a good job exposing the full extent of the problem, but their only solution seems to be "pressure the government" or to encourage people to vote Labour at the next election.

But homelessness grew under the last Labour government and would rise further under another one, just as it will under the Tories.

The fact is that homelessness is not simply due to Tory cuts. Like unstable house prices, it is the inevitable result of a system where house building is financed by fraudulent loans from the banks, and where speculators are allowed to hoard more property than they possibly need for their personal or family use.

BEGGING

There is no hope of ending the crisis by begging our masters in Westminster to do something, or by voting in a slightly different bunch of crooks. The only hope the homeless have is constructive direct action to help themselves.

At the same time as homelessness soars to record levels, speculators' office blocks, yuppie dockland developments and council estates all lie empty due to greed or incompetence. The answer to homelessness is simple:

OCCUPY EMPTY PROPERTY.

The right to have a roof over your family's heads is fundamental. The State has failed to prevent the banks, speculators and bureaucracies denying one million of our people this right. So the State cannot complain if people take action themselves.

This isn't a new or untried idea. At the end of the First World War, for example, a refugee camp in Durham lay empty and locked up. While the housing shortage in Tyneside grew, 650 concrete huts with all mains services and a school and hospital were disused. So returning soldiers smashed down the gates and occupied the place with their families. The government gave way and let them stay.

Just after the end of the Second World War, in 1945, an broke into empty seaside boarding houses and installed the homeless families of their comrades. Their example spread to other towns, until the government gave local councils the power to requisition empty properties and make the movement official.

"Ex-Servicemen's Secret Committee" organized 400 "Vigilantes" in Brighton who Squatters in Hackney, East London prepare to protect their homes from the police and bailiffs. It is a fundamental right for everyone to have a roof over their head.

A million people homeless. Plenty of perfectly good property lies unused. Help yourselves!

The following year homeless squatters took over an empty anti-aircraft camp near Scunthorpe. Other camps were occupied in a massive popular movement. By October 1946, 1,038 camps had been occupied by 39,533 people. Each camp was run by its own elected committee. Scotland alone, had 4,000 squatters. Hotels, shops and race tracks were seized as well. In London, on one day alone, 148 luxury flats at Duchess of Bedford House, Kensington were occupied, together with other blocks and large houses.

By the time the 630 room Ivanhoe hotel in Bloomsbury was taken, the Labour government showed its true blue colours by ordering the police to blockade occupied premises, refusing to allow in food or blankets for children.

ALL-POWERFUL

The Labour 'vision' was of an all-powerful State providing "Welfare" - and so control - from the cradle to the grave. The sight of ordinary people acting to help themselves was intolerable. As winter neared, Aneurin Bevan returned from holiday in Switzerland and ordered local authorities to cut off gas and electricity to premises controlled by squatters. At the same time, official efforts to cut the housing queue became markedly more efficient than usual.

Some squatters were forced out. Many more left as they found permanent homes anyway. Others had their positions regularized by councils or private landlords. The housing crisis abated as post-war reconstruction got underway.

But the squatters' movement had succeeded in providing temporary homes for thousands. It had forced the State to put extra resources into housing. And it had shown that popular direct action can be effective and constructive.

Naturally, the Tories did their best to forget an episode which challenged and exposed the exploitation inherent in the landlord system. And the Labour Party and Marxists have sought to bury all trace of a movement which got people to help themselves, rather than relying on the State.

But as the housing crisis deepens, we must look again to the example of the war heroes who became squatters.
